

Do you lack confidence in your ability to create an interesting short story based on theme, character or plot?

Are you frustrated by the lack of time you have to complete all those stories running around in your head?

Discover the Joy of Writing Fiction

is a one-day intensive workshop featuring freelance writer and short story author, Paul Lima, who will help you discover and explore story ideas.

- Learn techniques that will help you harness the writing process
- Tap into your creativity and put flesh on your story ideas using proven techniques
- Mold your material into a linear plot outline that you can use to complete your story
- Uncover the secret to freeing up daily hours that will make it possible for you to write your story in 30 days or less

Register for this Writing workshop

Discover the Joy of Writing Fiction

To ensure it is effective, the workshop is limited to 25 participants.

Where: St. Luke's Anglican Church,
1513 Dixie Rd. Mississauga

When: Sat., April 10, 2010

Time: 9:30 a.m. — 3:30 p.m.

Cost: $89 for non-members
$74 for members

(see registration form for eligible associations)

Brown bag your lunch or eat at nearby restaurants

To register

send your cheque with the form on the back of this panel to:

Herb Ware

c/o 6376 Atherly Cres.
Mississauga L5N 2J2

For further information:

workshops@writeware.ca
or call 416-848-1510

Frustrated because all those stories bumping around in your head never seem to get beyond the dream stage?

Discover the Joy of Writing Fiction

will show you how to bring those ideas to life!

In this hands-on workshop you will discover techniques that will effectively generate story ideas, develop those ideas into a workable outline, and you will learn tactics that turn the outline into a solid first draft of your story.

You will learn techniques that will put your writing process into harness

- Discover how to make themes, characters and plots work for you
- using proven techniques, tap your creativity, put flesh on your core idea
- mold the material you develop into a linear plot outline that you can then use to complete your story
- You will be shown the secret to freeing up daily hours that will make it possible for you to write your story

Using the techniques from this workshop, you could easily write a short story in under 30 days (and still have time for a final edit and a cup of tea).

The methods taught in this workshop can also be applied to longer works of fiction.

This workshop takes place

Saturday, April 10/10
9:30a.m. - 3:30p.m.
at St. Luke's Anglican Church,
1513 Dixie Rd, Mississauga

Paul Lima

Workshop leader Paul Lima has been a professional writer and writing instructor for more than 25 years.

Besides extensive experience as a freelance writer for national newspapers and magazines, and as a magazine editor, Paul has dozens of short stories published in a variety of literary magazines and has been a judges' choice finalist two times in the Toronto Star Short Story contest.

He is the author of several books for writers.

You can read some of Paul's work at: www.paullima.com/cw

Other valuable workshops:

-- For all writers --

How to Engage & Charm Your Audience — April 24/10

-- For freelance writers --

How to Find and Price Corporate Business — May 1/10

For more information:

www.writeware.ca

Workshop Registration form

Saturday, April 10/10

Discover the joy of writing fiction

Name: _____

Address: _____

City: _____

Phone/e-mail: () _____

(to confirm your registration)

Payment enclosed: $ _____
(Make cheque payable to HERB WARE)

$89 for non-members

$74 for members (mark your affiliation)

WEN HHWEN WCDR PWAC

Send this form & cheque to:

Herb Ware
c/o Editwrite Communication
Services
6376 Atherly Cres.
Mississauga, Ontario, L5N 2J2